

What is an IP65 enclosure?

IP65 enclosures offer stronger protection and are built for tougher environments. They're completely sealed from dust and can withstand high-pressure water jets, making them a reliable option for both outdoor and industrial settings. Common use cases:

Are IP55 vs IP65 enclosures better?

When comparing IP55 vs IP65 enclosures, one of the biggest questions is cost. And yes--IP65 enclosures usually cost more. But that doesn't automatically mean they're the best choice for every project. IP65 enclosures are built with stronger gaskets, tighter seals, and often thicker housing materials. This added protection requires:
