What materials are used for weatherproof battery enclosures?

The materials used for weatherproof battery enclosures are not different from materials used for other types of enclosures. Metal battery enclosures include those manufactured from carbon (mild) steel, galvanized steel, and stainless steel- usually of the grades 304, 316, or 316L. Carbon steel is usually duller than stainless steel.

What is a metal battery enclosure?

Metal battery enclosures include those manufactured from carbon (mild) steel, galvanized steel, and stainless steel- usually of the grades 304, 316, or 316L. Carbon steel is usually duller than stainless steel. It is also magnetic and more malleable since it only has iron and carbon. This steel is also prone to corrosion.

What is the best material for a battery enclosure?

Aluminum battery enclosures are highly popular for all designs of cabinets and cases because aluminum is lightweight. This material is especially good for battery enclosures exposed to solvents, petrochemicals, some acids, most sulfates and nitrates. There are also fiberglass battery enclosure boxes and plastic battery enclosures.
